CARMEL PINE CONE

ISSUED WEEKLY

DEC. 1, 1915 CARMEL, CALIFORNIA VOL. I, NO. 44

SOME THINGS OF WHICH CARMEL IS IN NEED

Number 1.—Signs indicating the way to the old Mission and other places of interest. Not a day passes that strangers do not ask to be directed how to reach various places in this vicinity.

Number 2.—An establishment where people may in- [illegible] need for a long time. Many persons contemplating a visit here have particularly inquired about this matter Were it known and advertised that there was such an institution here our year-around visitors would increase largely in number.

Number 3.—Automobiles only to carry the United States mails to and from Carmel; and a departure schedule which would make it possible for a letter mailed here in the morning to be delivered in San Francisco or other bay cities on the same day.

Number 4.—A centrally-located public Art Gallery—a gallery where local artists and others may exhibit their work, a place that would be open all day and every day. An art community without a general gallery is like unto a large banking center without a common clearing house.

Number 5.—A peace officer who is on the job at least during all of the day-light hours. One of the several duties this official could perform would be to warn or arrest those who are cruel to animals—a too frequent occurence here of late.

Thanksgiving Affair at Pine Inn A Grand Success

From beginning to end—from the time the townspeople and their friends began to gather in picturesque animated groups in the hotel parlors, through the short hour and a half of a splendid dinner, followed by the presentation of an impromptu programme of story-telling and reading, and closing with a good old-fashioned Virginia reel—the entire Thanksgiving affair at Pine Inn was an unqualified success.

It was an affair long to be remembered and one reflecting much credit upon its guiding spirit and promoter, George H. Shields. And is furthermore an earnest of what may be expected at Christmas.

The only disconcerting note of the evening was the announcement that Mr. J. W. Hand was unable to be present owing to illness.

To the everlasting credit of the more than one hundred persons present be it said, that knowing Lotta to be present and knowing too that it was her desire not to be lionized and made much of, they very considerately permitted the noted little woman to partake of her dinner and depart in peace.

Those present were

Mrs Reynolds and son, Dr. Winslow, wife and two children, Mrs S. Cumming, Mrs. Ashburner, W G Harrison, L N Watson, Mrs Watson, Mr and Mrs von Schmidt, Mr and Mrs J Hitchcock, Miss J. Prentiss, Mr and Mrs P Newberry, Austin Sperry, Mr and Mrs W L Overstreet and daughter, Mr and Mrs L S Slevin, Mr and Mrs D Curtis, Dr and Mrs Williamson and son, L Josselyn, Mr and Mrs A P Fraser, Miss I A Johnson, Miss Hunter, Miss J M Culbertson, Mr and Mrs S Thomas, Mr and Mrs J F Devendorf, Misses E and M Devendorf, Mrs I Devendorf, Mrs G Aram, J P Staples, Mr and Mrs W Hanson, Miss Margaret and Mrs Bristol, Mr and Mrs P Taylor and daughter, Mr and Mrs I Waterbury, Mrs H A Pudan, Miss E Harrington, Miss Stanford, Mr and Mrs A H Roseboom, Mr and Mrs A Stewart, Mrs C Morgan, Miss Kate Miles, Miss L Adams, Miss F Farrington, Miss A Edmonds, Misses Etta and Minnie Tilton, Miss M Critchlow, Miss S Herrick, Miss F Hauswirth, Mrs and Miss Fulton, Mr and Mrs L Daingerfield, Miss A Daingerfield, Miss Shiell, Mrs R Humber, Miss H Bordell, Miss H C Brown, Mrs C O Goold, Miss L Lichtenthaler, Miss E McLean, Miss D and Miss A Ives, Miss Watson, Mrs H M Bremner, Miss Fallows, Mrs S Yard, Miss M D Morgan, Miss Lotta Crabtree, Mrs L E and Miss O Schmidt, Mr and Mrs J N Hilliard and two daughters, Mrs J R Mason, Miss C Prout, Miss E Eppich, Miss T Tag, Miss L Ellias, Mrs L Otis, Miss Deegan, Miss A A Gray, Mr and Mrs Harrison Robinson, and others.

Interesting Local Activities

The Boys' Club

The club has entered on its third year, meeting weekly. At the last meeting considerable time was devoted to Edison, with stories of his early life, illustrating how he persisted in overcoming obstacles in order to accomplish what he set out to do. Next week Booker T. Washington will be one of the subjects. It is believed that a knowledge of the really great men of the country cannot but help be an incentive to any ambitious boy.

Campfire Girls

The Campfire Girls have been organized, and there is the promise of much interesting work ahead. In order to defray the initial expense of dress and incidentals the girls will have a sale at Miss Culbertson's studio on Thursday, December 18. Mrs. S. Thomas is the Guardian.

Hillside Reading Circle

The regular weekly meeting will be held at 8 o'clock this evening, at the home of Miss Ida A Johnson, Monte Verde and Ninth avenue. These affairs are becoming more and more popular.

Junior Boys' Club

The first meeting of the Junior Boys' Club was held last Sunday evening. This organization is designed to interest boys from 10 to 14 years of age; the meetiugs are to take place weekly, from 7:30 to 9 o'clock p.m. There will be no dues and refreshments will be served. Each boy will be asked to sign a pledge which will stand for good living and good citizenship, and the members will be limited. On December 19 an illustrated lecture will be given on "Community Betterment," and it is hoped to have both boys' clubs attend in a body.

ITEMS OF INTEREST.

Devotees of bowling, men and women, will soon have an opportunity to innulge in the sport. The new alleys on Ocean avenue are nearing completion.

Mr. Landau, who has been occupying the Cobbe cottage, is resting quiet easily after the appendicites operation of last Thurday.

Fire Engine Proves Its Worth

About 6:30 yesterday morning, a boiled-over coffee pot on an oil stove, at the home of C. O. Goold, started what might have been a very destructive fire.

As soon as the fire was discovered the new chemical engine, stationed at the garage, was hurried out.

Notwithstanding that by the time the engine began working the entire rear interior of the house was in flames, in a very few seconds the fire was under control, and the entire building saved. The loss is covered by insurance.

Mr. Goold declares that the engine has paid for itself many times over.

Citizens, hand in your subscription for the "Fire Fund."

Submarines at Point Lobos

Rumor has it that A. M. Allen is assemble a submarine fleet at Point Lobos. There is no occasion for jingoes or mollycoddles to get "het up" over this announcement.

Since the beginning of the abalone canning industry the method of obtaining the abalones has been slow, hazardous and not over profitable, and it was recently suggested to Mr. Allen by a boat-builder that it might be a good idea to utilize some sort of under-the-water craft to gather the abalones.

The idea struck Allen favorably, and now remain the details to be worked out. Of course, the first enlistments for the service will be made in Carmel.

Card Party

The ladies of St. Angela's Guild have arranged to give a popular card party on Saturday evening, December 18. Through the courtesy of Geo. H. Shields the affair will be held in the parlors of Pine Inn. Refreshments will be served.

"Going Right Out"—To Seattle

A number of residents of this section can recall the time when the only regular mode of travel between Carmel and Monterey was Goold's two-horse stage driven by Sam Powers.

It will be something of a shock to learn that we are soon to lose our genial Sam. Really, Carmel without Sam will seem like mince pie without a kick in it.

Accompanied by Mrs. Powers, Sam will depart shortly for Seattle to take a position procured for him by Paul Wall, his stepson.

"See Carmel First" and then visit the Big Sur section. Globe trotters who have been in the Alps and the Canadian Rockies declare that the Sur country, reached via Carmel-by-the-Sea, has a greater variety of scenic beauties than either of these.

The attractiveness of the Big Sur section is its variety.

There are waterfalls, virgin forests of redwood, pine, fir and many other trees. There are small creeks and large rivers, small valleys and deep canyons, and all along is an inspiring marine view.

Write your friends to visit Carmel this winter, stay awhile, visit the Big Sur, and returning, rest again in Carmel.

Few "Safety Firsts" to Avoid Fire

It is easier to destroy than to build. These precautionary items are property savers:

Don't make brush fires near your house.

Don't carry loose matches in your pockets.

Use safety matches only.

Beware of lamps and candles in clothes closets.

Fill lamps in daylight only.

Don't clean clothes with gasoline, in the house.

Turn off the juice when you leave your electric iron.

Children can play Indian without making a fire.

Half-way Allegiance Taboo

A short time ago in Washington, President Wilson, and later Theodore Roosevelt in New York, took a firm stand against divided allegiance on the part of persons claiming part in United States citizenship.

The President expressed a desire that the time may come quickly when the foreign-born citizens shall be lined up—those who think first of other countries on one side—"biblically it should be to the left"—"and all those who are for America first, last and all the time" on the other side.

The former President said: "There is no room in this country for hyphenated Americans."

Be a Lecturer

Why not? Any person desiring to deliver lectures on how flies carry bacteria on their legs or what the hookworm does to people, or what the proper function of a toothbrush is, or any of those fascinating lines, can make them stereoptican lectures by writing to the U. S. Public Health Service at Washington, which has established a loan library of stereoptican slides which will be sent on request. With slides, lectures on personal and public hygiene will be made more popular.

Song of Europe

The kings are in the background
Issuing commands;
The queen is in the parlor
Per ediquette's demands.
The bankers in the counting-house
Are busy multiplying;
The common people at the front
Are doing all the dying.

Old Books Were Best

"Books we read when we were boys and girls" was the topic of discussion at a recent gathering. It is probable that a list of such books would place next to the Bible, "Pilgrim's Progress," which outside the Scriptures holds the most familiar and dear place among lessons taught by simple, concrete pictures of human experience. The "Alice" books of Lewis Carroll are likewise sure of a place in such a composite of memory, as also the poems of H. W. Longfellow and "Little Women."

These favorites helped immeasurably to lay the foundation of the present generation's mental equipment.

A glance at the children's books and "columns" of the the present day makes us very doubtful whether the reading placed before our children inspires the same pure ideals, or allures with the mirth that spoke so gently to the children that we grown-ups used to be.

Public Libraries

There are, in rough figures, 18,000 free libraries in the U. S. The word "free" refers to freedom from money payments, and this number includes not only publicly maintained and privately endowed libraries for the public use, but college and other institutional libraries.

Let Us All Help to Make Someone Happy

While pondering over the fine feeling established, the many favorable comments received and the noble impulses aroused, as the result of sending a bunch of poppies to San Francisco a short time ago, it has occured to me that the approaching Christmas season of peace on earth, good will to men, would be an excellent time for the good people of Carmel to do something for those who are unfortunate and unhappy.

We are all more or less prosperous, all more or less up against it. There are none of us so bad off that we are unable to help a little someone who is infinitely worse off than we are.

If you only knew it, there are worthy folks right in our midst who are facing a very cheerless Christmas time indeed. There are reputable charitable orgonizations in San Francisco which are sending out strong appeals for clothing, food and money to carry on their work of succor and good cheer.

Have you an old dress, an old coat, a few forgotten toys. They can be used to keep some one warm, to make some child happy. If you have none of these, make a money donation, which may buy medicine for those who are ill.

You may leave or send your contributions of clothing, toys and money to the Pine Cone office, to be distributed where they are most needed.

But- do it now!
